

Question 4, continued:

These questions refer to the community described on the previous page.

- Every 2 to 5 years, there is an abundant crop of acorns. A year where there is a large crop of acorns is called a 'mast year'.

e) During a mast year, a larger number of humans contract Lyme disease than during other

