

Internet Paper

I will post a question that you will answer using only internet sources, the books you have read for the course, and the lectures. You may use online sources you have access to, for example, journal articles from JStor, etd. The paper should be three pages in length using 12 pt. font and one inch margins. The purpose of this assignment is to give you experience in using the internet to do research. Most of you will go to Google, but some of the material you will access will be superficial and/or unreliable. Use judgment in use of the sites. There are other sources that you can use to do research on historical topics. Some of these are:

Center for History and New Media-Mozilla Firefox;
<http://chnm.gmu.edu/tools/syllabi>. This site gives you course syllabi that you can search with relevant keywords

The History Cooperative-Mozilla Firefox; <http://www.historycooperative.org/#>.
This site will give you full-text articles

The Scout Archives-Mozilla Firefox; <http://scout.wisc.edu/Archives/Index>. This is a high-quality site that winnows out the best historical material

Geometry.Net-The Online Learning Center-Mozilla Firefox; <http://geometry.net/>.
This site provides good Web control.

Librarians' Index to the Internet. <http://lii.org/>. This is a very reliable site that directs you to good content sites

Google. <http://www.google.com/options/index.html>. Go to Google, then click on "More" to reach this page. This is a high quality site that is continually being added to.
